Dear Colleagues

Clinical Guideline No 65 – Management of inadvertent perioperative hypothermia in adults

The advice in this NICE guideline covers: the care and treatment of people who are having an operation in hospital, in the HSC sector, to reduce their risk of getting cold before, during or after their operation.

DHSSPS advises that this guidance is valid for Northern Ireland and endorses it for implementation in HSC.

The full NICE clinical guideline is available for download at:

<http://www.nice.org.uk/Guidance/CG65>

The HSC sector also should note that;

1. The Department expects HSC organisations to take account of this guidance in the planning and delivery of services to patients undergoing surgery.
2. This advice does not override or replace the individual responsibility of health professionals to make appropriate decisions in the circumstances of their individual patients, in consultation with the patient and/or guardian or carer. This would, for example, include situations where individual patients have other conditions or complications that need to be taken into account in determining whether the NICE guidance is fully appropriate in their case.
3. This guideline will be reviewed by NICE as and when required
4. NICE has developed tools to help organisations implement this guidance. These are available at <http://www.nice.org.uk/Guidance/CG65> and include costing tools, implementation advice and audit criteria to monitor local practice.
5. NICE has developed related guidance as follows:
 - Preoperative tests the use of routine preoperative tests for elective surgery for download at <http://www.nice.org.uk/Guidance/CG3>

All NICE guidance endorsed by the Department to date can be accessed on the DHSSPS website at:

Circular HSS (PPMD) (NICE) 01/006 issued on 30 June 2006 provides further information on the Northern Ireland process for reviewing NICE guidance and further details on the local status of the Institute's guidance. This circular can be accessed at:
